
An aerial photograph of Antigua, Guatemala, showing the city's dense architecture and a large volcano in the background. The image is tinted with a blue-purple hue. The volcano, likely Volcán de Agua, dominates the upper half of the frame. The city below is a complex of buildings, with a prominent white structure, possibly a cathedral or church, visible in the lower-left quadrant. The overall scene is captured from a high vantage point, looking down on the city and across the valley towards the mountain.
