The complicated net of existence on planet Earth tells many tales concerning the emergence and later disappearance of varied animal species. A few animals seem to have been ill-suited for survival. They have been oddities of evolution without a lot of prospect, and their final disappearance used to be no longer that surprising. Others appear to have disappeared for no specific reason. Occasionally they left in the back of a list in their life in fossil forms, however the reason for their passing could stay a mystery. Sadly, the fashionable list exhibits the hand of people at paintings within the loss of life of many species.
