

The background of the cover is a painting of a seascape. The sky is a mix of grey, blue, and white, suggesting a cloudy or overcast day. The sea is depicted with horizontal brushstrokes in shades of brown, green, and blue, creating a sense of movement and depth. In the distance, a small boat with a yellow and green sail is visible on the horizon. The overall style is impressionistic and somewhat somber.

Felix Berezin: The Life And Death Of The Mastermind Of Supermathematics

M. Shifman

Felix Berezin used to be a good Soviet mathematician who within the Sixties and 70s was once the motive force at the back of the emergence of the department of arithmetic referred to now as supermathematics. The imperative over the anticommuting Grassmann variables that he brought within the Nineteen Sixties laid the basis for the trail imperative formula of quantum box conception with fermions, the guts of contemporary supersymmetric box theories Felix Berezin: The Life And Death Of The Mastermind Of Supermathematics and superstrings. The Berezin crucial is called for him, as is the heavily comparable building of the Berezinian, that could be considered as the superanalog of the determinant. This e-book contains a masterfully written memoir via Berezin's widow, Elena Karpel, who narrates a striking account of Berezin's lifestyles and his fight for survival below the totalitarian Soviet regime. Supplemented with reminiscences through his shut pals and colleagues, Berezin's accomplishments in mathematics, his novel principles and leap forward works, are reviewed in articles written via Andrei Losev and Robert Minlos.
