each loser has a story. And few groups have misplaced rather just like the Trinity Bible collage soccer team. situated in Ellendale, North Dakota-population 1,559-Trinity produces preachers and missionaries, yet with an enrollment of in simple terms 310 students, struggles to discover caliber athletes. maintaining the religion tells the impressive tale of the 2004 Trinity Bible collage Lions, the worst Keeping the Faith: In the Trenches with College Football's Worst Team university crew within the country-a staff struggling with for victory and, extra importantly, dignity. Countless activities books were written approximately championship groups and grand traditions. yet what approximately groups at the different part of the scoreboard? How do these gamers and coaches fight through ridicule, adversity, and defeat? This account is advised throughout the eyes of a colourful staff of characters, together with Trinity's head coach, Rusty Bentley, a local Texan and previous automobile salesman who says he moved his relations to North Dakota since it used to be God's will. In his first game, Trinity misplaced 105-0. Assistant trainer Eric Slivoskey has traveled in the course of the world, yet he got here to Ellendale looking solutions to his non secular questions. A former highschool star, he struggles to coexist with the Scriptures-quoting Bentley, whose wisdom of the Bible turns out to dwarf his wisdom of football. Trinity's players, who quantity fewer than thirty, comprise Lee Odell, an all-conference middle at the offensive line who is surrounded by means of teammates who did not even play highschool football. broad receiver Andy Brower is education to be a pastor, yet he doesn't think the Lions might be counting on Jesus to aid them at the field. Trinity's gamers preserve taking the sector week after week, loss after loss. they retain playing, continuously believing the subsequent online game will deliver victory. conserving the religion is set football, faith, and discovering small victories amidst massive defeats.
