Mein Feuer brennt im Land der Fallenden Wasser

Rainer M. Schröder

Pennsylvania 1758: Mary Jemison überlebt als Einzige den Indianerüberfall auf die Farm ihrer Eltern und wird verschleppt. Bei den Irokesen fällt es ihr im Lauf der Monate immer schwerer, ihre eigene, in der Welt der Weißen verwurzelte Identität aufrechtzuerhalten. Doch dann bietet sich ihr die probability zur Flucht.

Rainer M. Schröder arbeitet hier eine Legende auf: die der Weißen Frau vom Genesee River. Gut recherchiert und mitreißend geschrieben.
